Call for applications

The Sopianae Association in cooperation with the Europe Direct Information Office for Baranya County, and the Doctoral Student Association of the University of Pécs is organizing an international event, the 4th Youths in Europe Conference in Pécs.

The aim of the conference is to start a scientific, interdisciplinary conversation among young intellectuals from EU member and candidate countries. While EU member states' representatives have adequate and precise knowledge on the potentials of the EU, the guests from candidate countries will bring new insights into the discussion. The joint efforts can result in achieving a better, more homogeneous, and more common Union by synthesizing the problems and considering them from different points of view.

Sessions:

- Law
- Energy Policy
- Politics
- Geopolitics
- Business and Economics
- Jean Monnet Interdisciplinary session

Subsections are planned to be created depending on the number of applications.

The professionally prestigious, academic plenary and paper presentations offer a unique opportunity for young Ph.D. students, scholars and researchers to introduce their research projects. The program also includes social activities that bring variety and color to the two days long event.

The conference will be held between November 24-25, 2017, in the Zsolnay Quarter in Pécs.

After the online registration participants are kindly asked to send the abstract (~2,500-4,000 characters) to the following e-mail address: feu@sopianae.com by 20 October 2017. The abstracts should be written in Hungarian, English, or German. The abstract submission is part of the registration procedure without which the registration will not be considered. The abstracts can only be submitted by using the e-mail address above. Every submission will be subjected to a peer-review process. If the abstract fails to fulfill the general academic requirements, the application will not be accepted, and we will transfer the participation fee back.

If you wish to publish your article in the conference volume, please, submit your article until the 31st January 2018 by sending it to the feu@sopianae.com e-mail address. Articles can only be accepted for publishing if a professional review written by an expert with a Ph.D. or DLA of the given discipline is attached to them, together with a signed and filled-in copy of the author's statement. The required documents are available for download on www.fiatalokeuropaban.eu via the Documents link or on www.fiatalokeuropaban.hu (Hungarian site) website via the Dokumentumok link.

The accepted and reviewed papers will be published in the printed conference volume or in a journal issue.

The formal requirements of the abstract and the research paper are announced simultaneously to this call and are available on www.fiatalokeuropaban.hu and www.fiatalokeuropaban.eu just like the other official documents.

Please, note that only papers of presentations held at the conference can be published in the conference volume.

Please, do not hesitate to contact us on our e-mail address (feu@sopianae.com).
